

Notes from Post-it Activity at CNC Welcome Reception
12.13.18

1. Why are you joining the CNC?
  - For community, for understanding, for collaboration- FII
  - No one gets anything done alone. Community is everything, in outreach, support, idea generating and more. (Cambridge Women's Center)
  - There's only so much you can glean from a Google search. Networking and relationships are everything! (Jessye, Cambridge Women's Center)

2. What potential impact can CNC have by unifying nonprofit organizations in Cambridge?
  - Coordination to maximize resources/access to/for families. Unified voice from multiple perspectives- FII
  - The last 10 years have been a lot of merge, grow or die for nonprofits. The CNC is a potential solution for joint problem solving. Cambridge Women's Center

3. Are you interested in applying for a Community Benefits grant and looking for partners? If so, what will you bring to a collaborative project?
  - Looking to create a group of organizations that focus on nutrition education to apply together for the community benefit funding- ECHO (Eradicate Childhood Obesity Foundation)
  - Yes, we bring an economic and social mobility lens. We have strong admin infrastructure and data collection. Looking for housing and Mental Health partners to brainstorm with. (FII)
  - I can bring conflict skills trainings and mediation across the sector to any/all projects and communities. Please be in touch and collaborate! (Gail Packer- Community Dispute Settlement Center)
